We managed to develop our own innovative methodology for Collective Poetry Writing and translating. The teaching base on the Five Educational Cycles in the Emultipoetry Service described on the website. The Main goal of the MULTIKULTURA is to promote social inclusion of disadvantaged groups through the initiation and implementation of educational and cultural activities. MULTIKULTURA provides on-line non-formal and informal learning and training activities for people of all ages and social categories. Cooperate with educational institutions, vocational groups of professionals, psychologists, language therapists for dyslexia, VET teachers and trainers who provide innovative treatments to help in learning disabilities. Operating in the rural, post industrial area Nowa Huta MULTIKULTURA is in constant cooperation with the local authorities and teachers, trainers or VET-professionals providing work-based trainings to stimulate education and employment of local inhabitants. MULTIKULTURA organize many public events and take active part in the local community problems. Main activity areas: vocational training/adult education; social integration of disadvantaged groups; youth and civil society. Increasing capabilities of citizens by addressing the needs of the labour market in the context of lifelong learning and ensure open access to different levels, forms and methods of acquiring knowledge and skills development of every citizen of the region regardless of gender, age, residence, ethnicity, social and material status. In order to respond to the educational challenge of the rural population in Poland the MULTIKULTURA set up the initiative of Education Equal Opportunities, which came just in the stage of building a community of digital education leaders – that is the volunteers who could help to provide rural area citizens with pathways for improving their knowledge and competences. The volunteers are called the "lighthouse keepers". Participants are welcome to join the on-line poetry writing video games with special video graphics design. The video games are still very popular among international users even five years after the eMultipoetry project is completed at: www.eMultipoetry.eu Each day a new poems are created on the eMultipoetry video games. The selected poems are then projected on the walls of the city of Krakow. Since 1999 MULTIKULTURA is working as educational provider on different projects on Cooperative Learning in classes as well as in the international contexts, where participants explore methods that stimulate the co-operation through open, challenging and complex tasks. Mainly exploring the method derived from cooperative learning developed by Elizabeth Cohen (Stanford University) and DALTON PLAN. In case of each educational project an e-learning methodology is develop. Printed audiovisual materials are publish for Europe-Wide dissemination among educational institutions.
